Claims 1 to 12 are pending.

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tadepalli et al (U.S. 2002/0015255). Tadepalli discloses a disk drive with a rectifier plate 142 (note figure 2) that has a front edge curved to match the movement of a head which is rotated across a disk 122 via a head actuator 112 (paragraph 0033). Shroud surface 158 is also disclosed. The corner between surfaces 158 and 160 will be a point of dust accumulation and can be considered a dust catcher. Tadepalli discloses multiple disk with the rectifier plate therebetween (figure 5 for example).

4. Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Plonczak (U.S. 5,204,793). Plonczak discloses a disk drive including an integral head loading ramp and air filter as set forth in the title of the patent.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1 to 12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 to 19 of copending Application No. 10/716,883. Looking at claim 1 of the present application and claim 12 of the '883' application, claim 12 of the '883' application does not set forth that the rectifier plate has an edge extending on an arc equidistant from an actuator support shaft. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide claim 12 of the '883' application with an edge extending on an arc equidistant from an actuator support shaft since the rectifier plate is going to effect airflow and having an edge with an arc matching the movement of the head slider will mean a consistent interface between air leaving the vicinity of the head slider and the rectifier plate.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 9 and 10 are allowable over the prior art of record. Claims 4 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims, and the double patenting type rejection were overcome.
